PORT ARTHUR, TEXAS, FRIDAY, MARCH 23, 1934.

ROME H. WOODWORTH DIES SUDDENLY OF STROKE

Slain As He Beats Sister

BUS LOOP WILL START IN MONTH

Two 30-Passenger Jits to Serve North Side

ORDINANCE DRAWN

Federal Building to Be the Terminus, Plan

Bus line transportation serving between 10,000 and 15,000 people between Austin avenue and DeQueen boulevard, Tenth and Thirteenth and adjacent streets and avenues, will be instituted by the Port Arthur-Port Neches bus line company within the next 30 days.

Another bus will be purchased in order to give the city route two vehicles and maintain the schedule now operating between this city and Port Neches.

Word to this effect was issued today by J. H. Washburn, general manager of the bus line company.

Name Routes Soon

Schedule, routes and other details of the Port Arthur transportation line will be worked out by the board of directors of the company as soon as Ed Lohmann, president, who is all able to call a meeting for the purpose, Washburn said.

An ordinance granting a franchise to the bus line company to operate on Port Arthur streets was given its first reading before the city commission Thursday afternoon. Final passage of the ordinance granting the franchise to the company, cannot be according to Vernon Wistner, city attorney.

Publication of the ordinance once each week for two consecutive weeks, a lapse of 20 days from the first publication of the franchise ordinance and its final passage, and then another publication, are required, the city attorney pointed out.

Restrictions Not to Interfere

Restrictions on streets upon which the bus line company, shown in the ordinance, will in no way interfere with the tentative plans of the bus line company for using the federal building as a terminal for the buses.

$3,000,000 GOES TO SCHOOL FUND

But Only $2,000,000 Available, Says Terrell

AUSTIN, March 23.—State Treasurer Terrell this morning received the letter from Comptroller Smith directing him to transfer the $3,000,000 appropriation to the available school fund and Terrell immediately announced that the transfer would be made.

Terrell said the general fund now has about $3,000,000 to its credit but that $5,000,000 of it belongs to the available school fund, representing state school taxes collected and gross receipts taxes. That would leave $2,000,000 for the transfer of $3,000,000. Thus, when the transfer is made, there will be a deficiency in the general fund and $1,000,000 less than the necessary $3,000,000 appropriated for transfer.

State Superintendent Marrs expects to be able to appropriate at least $5 on April 1 if the transfer is made.

Illinois Cashier Held Up On Bridge Over Mississippi

EAST ST. LOUIS, Ill., March 23.—Four bandits today held up Samuel D. Barber, assistant cashier of the Southern Illinois National Bank at East St. Louis, and escaped with $40,000.

Barber and his chauffeur, Fred Kruger, were crossing the Mississippi river bridge on their return after drawing the money from the First National bank at St. Louis.

Guided by Radio, Fleeing U. S. S. Iowa is Sunk by Warships 9 Miles Away

Forty Direct Hits Are Registered Before Game Veteran of Spanish War Goes to 'Davy Jones' Locker

ABOARD BATTLESHIP MARYLAND, March 23.—Seventy-five fathoms deep in Panama Bay, the gallant old American warship Iowa lies in her grave today, destroyed by the salvos of the dreadnaught Mississippi.

The Iowa, on which "Fighting Bob" Evans sailed into the battle of Santiago, was made a target for the big guns of her sister ships of the new American navy. There were cheers from the Maryland, Arizona, California and Pennsylvania as the Mississippi's gunners drove her to the bottom in the old warship at a range of nine miles.

Radio Controlled.

Controlled by wireless, with radio waves guiding her rubber and regulating her speed, the Iowa dodged and doubled, zigzagged and turned, like a living ship with living men aboard, as the explosives rained around.

Doomed, she seemed to be trying to escape from the ring of huge, modern dreadnaughts which circled her, and from whose decks men with binoculars grimly watched her death agonies. She was a lonely looking ship, away in the distance, with projectiles kicking up great water-spouts which showered over her. She didn't look like the "pride of the fleet" that chased the Spaniards as they came out of the bay at Santiago.

40 Direct Hits

At last a shell smashed her wireless control and after that the Iowa was a derelict. Suddenly she keeled over to port and water cascaded from her decks. Forty hits had been scored. In the last six salvos service shells with full charges were used, and the old ship could stand no more.

The echoes of the Mississippi's big guns died away and there was silence.

Overdraws Account By $2.50, Boy Goes to Jail

A youth is in the city jail having passed a $2.50 check without sufficient funds in the bank to cover it.

"What made you do it? Didn't you know you'd have let you had the money if you'd told us you needed it?" friends told him this morning when they heard of his plight.

"I don't know why I did it," the young man replied, "but I'll remember it a long time."

MILLION LOSS IN IOWA FLOOD

Dramatic Rescue Made of Four Marooned

STOUCITY, Iowa, March 23.—Braving the treacherous waters of the flooded Missouri river on a raft, two deputy sheriffs today rescued four men marooned on Dungeness Island.

A fifth man refused to leave the island, deciding to take his chances with the flood threatening momentarily to inundate his place of refuge rather than attempt the perilous trip through the crushing ice gorges.

An ice jam five miles below the city backed up waters of the river to flood stage.

Hundreds of spectators lined the low levee of the river, watching the deputies as they defied death in reaching the island.

More than $1,000,000 worth of livestock and other property has been destroyed by the flood waters, Sheriff Boardley estimated at noon.

AUSTIN, Texas, March 23.—After deliberating 39 hours without reaching a verdict the jury in the case of Homer Tomes, charged with murder of H. C. Greer, Austin, merchant, was discharged by Judge Hamilton of the Travis county district court at 10 o'clock this morning.

The jury stood seven for conviction and five for acquittal.

SHOT WITH OWN GUN

Sour Lake Man Wrests it From Him in Rescue

BEAUMONT, March 23.—John Cronia, 768 Toltec street, is dead as a result of a shooting scrape in South Park shortly after noon today, alleged to have grown out of Cornia seriously injuring his sister, Mrs. Louise Winslow, with an ice pick.

Ed Cunningham, Soar Lake oil field worker, was arrested in connection with the shooting.

Shot With Own Gun

"I shot Cronia with his own gun when he pulled it on me after I went to the protection of his sister, whom he was beating," Cunningham told Officer W. M. Riley, who made the arrest.

Cunningham told the police he pulled Mrs. Winslow into another room, and her brother started after them. "I told him not to come any farther, but he did, and pulled his gun on me," Cunningham said. "I wrested the pistol out of his hand and shot him."

Dies Instantly

Cronia was shot once, the bullet entering over the heart, and he died instantly, police report. His sister, Mrs. Winslow, was rushed to H. S. Dier, where it was found she had been seriously injured by a blow on the head.

TO MOLD CHAUTAUQUA IN LAKE SHORE PARK

Permission for the guarantors of the chautauqua coming to Port Arthur, April 2 to 10 to place the tent for the attraction in Lake Shore park at the foot of Augusta avenue, was granted by the city commission Thursday afternoon. The guarantors were represented before the commission by George E. Carter, one of their number.

'ANGEL' QUIZZED IN KING MURDER

Blackmailer Slayer is New Theory By Police

NEW YORK, March 23.—Dorothy King, "Broadway Butterfly," found murdered March 15, was killed by a blackmailer who was trying to force the girl to help him, Assistant District Attorney Percora stated today.

New evidence in the hands of the authorities has cleared up the mystery of the model's murder to a point where this much is certain, Percora said.

"Mr. Marshall," unidentified rich patron of the arts who befriended Dorothy King, has been summoned to the district attorney's office. His counsel has agreed to produce him for an interview with Percora.

Says Federal Witness Threatened With Death By the Liquor Defense

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., March 23.—Attorneys for Mayor Roswell Johnson and other defendants in the Gary liquor conspiracy trial sought today to pick apart evidence presented by the government and refute it in detail. Questioning of Nathan Potts, a police sergeant listed among the defendants, was interrupted by Judge F. A. Geisler. Potts confessed that defendant officials attacked Philip Utkin, star government witness, and threatened him with death.

BURR AND KIBBIE FREED OF ARSON

Charge Against White Men Dismissed by James

FATHER GIVES ALIBI

Negress Who Identified Them Tells Different Tale

Wallace Burr and Pete Kibbie, arrested on complaints of robbery and arson, in connection with the burning of the T. Thomas store, were dismissed following their preliminary hearing yesterday afternoon in justice's court.

Judge W. F. James declared that "the evidence does not show they were connected with the Thomas fire at all."

The hearing, postponed from last Tuesday when it had first been scheduled, was held in the city hall at 2:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon. Burr and Kibbie had been held in the city jail for several days, the former having been brought here from his home in Lake Charles, La.

Elder Burr Testifies

"My son came home about the 28th or 29th of September, last year, to appear as a witness in a case in Lake Charles, La.," Burr's father told the court, when he had been placed on the witness stand.

He was home all through the month of October to my certain knowledge, and I read the account of the fire on Houston avenue to him myself out of a newspaper. I noticed the account and it attracted my attention because for seven months I lived on Houston avenue in the neighborhood of the Thomas store, and passed the place, I reckon, about a hundred times. I at first thought it was the place where I lived while in Port Arthur that had been burned down."

Kibbie's father, who also was present and who was called to the witness stand, testified that he and his son were first trapping camp many miles from Port Arthur from last August until after the first of the year.

The elder Kibbie produced a receipt to show that he and his son had been in Port Arthur the night of October 2, and had purchased supplies from a local merchant on that occasion, leaving town the next morning between 8 and 9 o'clock, he said, and returning to camp.

"My son went back with me," the elder Kibbie asserted, "and I am positive he was not in Port Arthur on the night mentioned in the charge."

6 Others in Muskogee Asylum Injured

MUSKOGEE, Okla., March 23.—Anson Sharp, 60, was burned to death and six other inmates of the Muskogee poor farm, northeast of here, were burned when that institution was swept by fire today.

Officials of the institution were unable to explain the cause of the fire. J. A. Keith, custodian, said he first knew the building was afire when awakened by the cries of aged persons, he rushed to the main hall and found it surrounded by flames. He then sounded a general alarm.

The city water company was called to Port Arthur by him, and as I recall, these matters were handled during the life of John W. Gates.

HEAD OF FIRST NATIONAL BANK STRICKEN AS HE STARTS FOR DAY'S WORK

Prominent Citizen For 27 Years a Port Arthur Resident a Significant Figure in Growth of City—Funeral Plans Not Completed

Rome H. Woodworth is dead.

Stricken with apoplexy while preparing to leave his home at 8:30 o'clock this morning, the banker, much of whose life work has been given to the progressive growth of Port Arthur, died while waiting for his chauffeur.

Apparently in good health Woodworth breakfasted with his family at his home, Vandervoort boulevard and Lake Shore drive, and prepared to come down town to attend to his business affairs at the First National bank, where he had served as president for the past 13 years.

While his chauffeur was bringing the car around from the garage, Mr. Woodworth suffered the fatal stroke. Death claimed him before the arrival of medical aid, summoned by members of his immediate family who rushed to his assistance, and without his regaining consciousness.

Several years ago Woodworth suffered a paralytic stroke and since that time he has been unable to participate actively in daily affairs. He has continued his daily visits to the bank, however, where each morning he met old friends and acquaintances. He was 53 years of age only a few weeks ago.

13 Years Bank President

For 13 years Woodworth was officially identified with the affairs of the First National bank. He was elected president of the institution after serving as vice president for a number of years, when George M. Craig, now president of the Merchants and Farmers National bank, resigned as president July 1, 1920. Craig had previously purchased the interests of William Smith, who with Frank Cummings, had organized the First National bank, a private institution.

At the time of his death, Mr. Woodworth owned in excess of 51 per cent of the capital stock of the First National bank.

Associated With Gates

Mr. Woodworth was closely associated with John W. Gates in his bank affairs, and together they purchased the Water, Light, Power and Ice company, later selling the light and power to Stone & Webster, and the water system to the city. Mr. Woodworth, with others, first conceived and put the idea of the water system on the market, after having spent a great deal of money in planning it and laying out the streets, sewers, and other features of the addition. He also bought considerable acreage just south of Nederland.

After 1920 Mr. Woodworth represented the Port Arthur interests of John W. Gates, and later, Dyana R. Gates. He was president of the board of trustees of the Port Arthur Business college, established by John W. Gates; a member of the board of directors of the Mary Gates hospital; and the Gates Memorial library. Largely through the efforts of Mr. Woodworth the Gates Memorial library was stocked with a collection of valuable books.

Mr. Woodworth came to Port Arthur in 1906 from Chicago as assistant to E. G. Dudley, then manager of the Port Arthur Land and Townsite company, and later was made manager of that organization. He then became very much interested in real estate and took an active part in all civic affairs of the town, serving as mayor from April, 1907 to August, 1905, when he resigned.

One of Mr. Woodworth's special hobbies was his wide sidewalks, and during his administration he inaugurated a sidewalk system for Port Arthur making them more than the usual width. From the time he entered politics until later years of his life, he took an active interest in political affairs here, and due to his forceful nature, he was able to guide the city through many hard periods and build constructively for the future.

Woodworth was married in 1907 to Miss Mary Woodworth of Chicago, and she with two children, Miss Thelma Woodworth and George R. Woodworth, survive. Several years ago Woodworth accompanied the body of a brother, George, who died in California, to the old home of Hancock, Iowa.

One of Woodworth's very close friends in Port Arthur was Miss Mary Woodworth of Chicago, and she with two children, Miss Thelma Woodworth and George R. Woodworth, survive. Several years ago Woodworth accompanied the body of a brother, George, who died in California, to the old home of Hancock, Iowa.

He was the second mayor of Port Arthur and it was largely through his efforts that the city of Port Arthur street were constructed 12 feet wide. I recall that during his regime as mayor he argued the proposition to build the city hall.

Factor For Progress

The city water company was sold to Port Arthur by him, and as I recall, these matters were handled during the life of John W. Gates.

"Since that time, Woodworth has devoted practically his entire time to the bank as its president, and I have known him to be diligent in his efforts."

CLEANUP DRIVE HERE APRIL 2

C. of C. Committee to Be Asked to Aid in Move

A clean-up and paint-up campaign in conjunction with the annual national movement fostered in over 70,000 communities in the United States will probably be inaugurated in Port Arthur about April 2.

Mayor Pink Logan, who has been considering the advisability of such a movement for several weeks, made this known here this morning.

"I think one of the best boasts a city can make," Mayor Logan asserted, "is that it is devoid of filth in the gutters, in the alleys, and that the residential sections are clean from end to end."

It is understood that Mayor Logan will communicate with the chairman of the Chamber of Commerce civic committee, R. L. Drake, and the superintendent of public sanitation, George M. Sims, as well as the numerous civic organizations in Port Arthur, to invoke their aid in a cleanup campaign.

In this connection, the mayor will probably issue a proclamation setting aside a certain length of time for the campaign, and every effort to make Port Arthur a cleaner city, in conjunction with the national movement, will be made.

Local League Grants Committees Until 28th To Make Final Report

First Games Will Probably Be Played On Lake Shore Diamond About April 10; Teams Indicate Progress In Choosing Players.

THE Port Arthur City League will probably open its official schedule with fast games on Lakeshore diamond April 10, and continue throughout the week days during the summer season until around the middle of August.

This was indicated at a meeting of some 35 enthusiastic fans and boosters held last night in the Chamber of Commerce auditorium, when baseball moved on with a big boom for Port Arthur as the City League was perfected in its organization.

Following the opening announcements by President Weddell, general discussions relative to the most important steps to be taken by the league teams occupied some few minutes, during which time several good talks by enthusiasts of baseball were made.

The various committees which were to have submitted reports at the conference last night requested additional time to complete business they have in their hands for the organization, and the League granted them until March 29 to make final reports. At that time, the third meeting of the League will be held in the Chamber of Commerce auditorium.

G. H. Green, who made the schedule for the City League last season, and who presented a tentative schedule to the League members last night, was appointed chairman of the schedule committee, relieving Bill Archer who was unable to attend.

Mr. Green's tentative schedule, which met with favor from all sides of the house, calls for the opening games to be played at Lake Shore Diamond around April 10, and sets up a series of games running from that date until about the 15th of August.

The middle of August has been accepted as a plausible time to end the City League season proper because it is a known fact that numerous clubs will be engaged in post-season affairs that will carry local baseball well up into September.

Reports from the Texas Company made last night indicated that some 20 or 35 baseball players have turned out in response to the company's call for men to compose their team in the League. It was indicated that some excellent material is to be found in this body of men, and that they are working hard for permanent positions on the Texas Company First squad.

From the Texas Islanders it was learned that they also have had a big response. Between 30 and 40 men have been reporting for their team, and have been practicing unusually hard. Some of the Island squad has been practicing on Lake Shore Diamond already, familiarizing themselves with the old sand lot, and whipping themselves into condition for the opening tilt.

The Gulfers reported that they have had numbers of men out, and that they have perfected an organization to play in the City League this season. The same team, it was brought out, will also represent the Gulf Refining company in semi-pro circles this year.

Indications from the City Team of the League indicated that its organization is also well under way, and that it will have men turning out probably the remainder of this week for practice. The City Team plans to have one of the crack squads in the League.

President Weddell and other officers of the League expressed themselves last night as well pleased with the progress made for the League, and intimated that the enthusiasm manifested by those present is indicative of a successful season this year.

ON THE FIRING LINE

With TAB

The Port Arthur Athletic Association, recognizing the fact that the city is financially unable at this time to construct a park suitable to baseball, soccer, football, hockey and all other outdoor sports requiring a large playing field, has offered to build such a park free to the city of Port Arthur, providing a lease on a portion of Lake Shore Park is granted the association.

The Association, according to its officials, recognizes the fact that such a park is Port Arthur's greatest need from an athletic standpoint.

For 15 years and more, baseball and football games have been played on the grounds at Lake Shore park. They have been played in the open, and the institutions fostering these games, which are played from one end of the globe to the other, have gone in debt to give Port Arthur athletic entertainment of a wholesome nature.

"If the city parks are free to the public would any arrangement by which a charge of admittance is made be legal?"

This is the question raised behind closed doors at the city commission yesterday afternoon when the city park board, composed of J. H. Washburne, T. W. Hughes and C. V. Palmer went into executive session with the city commissioners to discuss the legality of leasing any portion of Lake Shore Park to anyone for the purpose of erecting a fence.

Following the conference, it was understood City Attorney V. J. Wistner has been requested to render an opinion concerning whether the Port Arthur Athletic Association can lease any portion of the park for the erection of an athletic field to which admittance would be charged.

The athletic association recognizes one of the greatest needs here; the athletic association recognizes the city is unable to give its citizens an athletic field; the athletic association has offered to come to the rescue, open up the fence and grandstand, take a nominal return on their investment, and solve the problem that has confronted every city for ages past.

The local high school and every other school would be granted free use of the field. Any independent organization would be taxed for the use of the field. The grounds at Lake Shore Park have been used for years for the same purpose, and the association offers to improve it for every other city in the country has a municipal athletic field.

The election is set for March 28. If it carries, the association will be granted the right to improve the grounds at Lake Shore Park for their continued use for athletic games.

Shoots Wife, Kills Self While Daughters Plead

PHILADELPHIA, March 23.—John P. Donohoe, former policeman, shot his wife and killed himself as his three daughters vainly pleaded with him. The woman may die.

Donohoe, crazed by ruin and baseless jealousy, according to police, ran from his wife's bedroom to the kitchen of the home with his two sons in pursuit. As George, 20, and John, 16, tried to grapple with him, Donohoe pressed the revolver muzzle against his forehead and fired. He died instantly.

Donohoe, 47, was a patrolman up to five months ago. He quit when he received a legacy of $5,000 from his father's estate.

MORAN READY TO STAND PAT ON HIS TEAM

Has Only Few Boys From South

ORLANDO, Fla., March 23.—Manager Pat Moran of the Cincinnati Reds is satisfied to stand pat on his club for the coming season.

The boss leader of the Reds has only a limited number of recruits in the southland. According to Pat, one of his scout hasn't sent him a ball player from the minors in two years.

On the surface that might make it seem as if the scout had been a failure in his heavy hunting expedition. But Moran feels that he has saved the owners a lot of money by not loading the club up with young players who never had a chance.

The club on which Moran will pin his hopes for the coming season will be practically the same aggregation that finished the season of 1922 the national pennant team in the National League.

Of the entire squad of youngsters now in training here, six look as if they would be of some assistance to Moran in his fight for the pennant. They are Harris, Sandberg, Abrams, Keck, Fowler and Roberts.

Of the sextet four are pitchers, Keck, Roberts, Harris and Abrams. Fowler is a promising college back-fighter, and Sandberg a clever back-fighter in the International League last year.

Moran is hopeful that one of the four likely pitching recruits will show enough to win a place as a regular.

FRENCH CHAMP MAY NEVER BOX JOHN KILBANE

Muldoon Insists American is Taboo

By HENRY L. FARRELL

NEW YORK, March 23.—Eugene Ciriagi may have never heard in his native French the old gag of how the cup is mediated to slip, but he will get the full American effect of the logic when he arrives here today.

The French featherweight champion comes here with the design and a good contract to fight Johnny Kilbane for the world's championship. Kilbane and large numbers of customers are willing that the Frenchman be accommodated, but the boxing commission is out with a negative nod of the head.

Since William Muldoon tired of the dilatory tactics of the Cleveland Trishman and threw him into the pugilistic gulchhouse, Johnny Dundee, the junior lightweight champion has been looked upon as the world's featherweight titleholder of New York.

Kilbane hasn't a license here but that is through no workings of the commission. Johnny took the position that the commission could not tell him how to run his own business, and he never applied for one of its permits to fight in New York.

The commission would not say today that the Kilbane-Ciriagi fight could not be held here, but a strong intimation indicated the bout was very improbable.

Tom O'Rourke signed up Kilbane and Ciriagi and when this little blithering nose, Tex Rickard was asked to take an indirect slap at his hated rival. He dashed right out and got the first call on Johnny Dundee's services and announced that he would promote a Dundee-Ciriagi bout.

Ciriagi has done some very good fighting since the war.

He has run up an impressive list of knockouts since he left the service. It is said that a shell took away part of his jaw when he was at the front and that the bone was reinforced with aluminum which gives him a virtual iron jaw.

Most of the European critics overestimate their fighters, but they confidently believe that Ciriagi can beat Kilbane. As to Dundee, perhaps, they have never seen him and he has to be seen to be appreciated.

SPEEDWAY MAY BE READY FOR RACES APRIL 1

Building Contractor Sets Stakes For Stand

Special to the News.

HOUSTON, Texas, March 23.—Racing will begin at the new East Texas Speedway on the Port Arthur pike April 1. This fact was ascertained Thursday afternoon when Building Contractor George D. Cook and his construction foreman drove the foundation stakes for the mammoth grandstand to be erected along the west side of the course. Cook has been in Beaumont for several days and has arranged with local lumber concerns for the immediate deliveries of the lumber necessary to erect the stand. He has undertaken to have the structure completed and ready for occupancy of the race fans by Sunday afternoon, April 1. That this is a big undertaking is demonstrated by the fact that there are more than 55,000 feet of lumber in the stand. It will have a seating capacity of 24,000 persons and be one of the most substantial structures of its kind in East Texas.

L. P. Broussard, promoter of the race track project, and L. D. McKandhu, grading contractor, were on the ground Thursday afternoon. McKandhu has added a number of teams and men to the force employed in putting the finishing touches on the course proper, and declares that the race drivers will be able to meet their cars on the course for practice early next week. Mr. Broussard has undertaken to see that protective fences, bridges and other essentials to the racing for the large crowd that is expected on opening day are finished and ready by April 1.

Most of the drivers who will race in Houston on March 25 have signified their intention of racing on the new speedway on the opening date. Among those will be some of the fastest in the United States, including some new Indianapolis Speedway drivers. Orange, Beaumont and Port Arthur also will be represented with fast cars in the initial events.

Texas Exes Attempt To Get Tulane Game For Beaumont Field

Special to the News.

BEAUMONT, Texas, March 23.—H. M. Hagrove, M. Sheffield and Ben Jackson of Beaumont, Latcher Stark of Orange and J. L. Dunn of Port Arthur compose a committee which will confer with the athletic council of the University of Texas today in Austin regarding the possibilities of staging the Texas-Tulane game in Beaumont.

At a recent meeting of the Texas Athletic Union, Beaumont, Orange and Port Arthur, a committee was appointed to take up the matter. This committee met yesterday and delegated the sub-committee which left last night for Austin.

RULES OF THE UNITED STATES LAWN TENNIS ASSOCIATION KEEP PLAYERS IN TURMOIL

Paramount Idea of Organization to Keep Professional Taint From Game, Says American Star

BY VINCENT RICHARDS

Of the thousands of tennis fans in this country I dare say that only a small majority of them are aware that such a body as the United States Lawn Tennis Association exists.

Those who are familiar with the U. S. L. T. A. are perhaps entirely ignorant of the laws of the organization which have to be abided by, by those of us on its registered lists.

There are many stringent rules of the U. S. L. T. A. which continually keep some of the players at odds with this governing body, but seldom, if ever, do the details of these various "breaks" reach the press.

The paramount aim of the association is to keep tennis free from any taint of professionalism, and I know I am right when I say that every one of the first 20 players in the national rating is anxious to co-operate toward this end.

However, after careful thought and considerable personal experience, I have concluded that their efforts in this direction are too far-fetched and sooner or later there is liable to be a serious rupture.

Recently Bill Tilden, who is a noted amateur player, was offered a chance to enter the movie, but he was advised that this would eliminate him from competing as an amateur.

Another move on the part of the association that seemed uncalculated for success was the order that eliminated the names of tennis players from appearing on requests.

Recently I was asked to play in a match in New York City, the proceeds of which were to be awarded to a worthy charitable fund, but was unable to do so because the association refused to grant me a sanction in this regard.

At the recent Davis Cup matches over $800,000 was derived. Throughout the season, no doubt a half million dollars is taken in over the country as a result of tournament play. All this money goes to the association.

Of this large sum there isn't a cent spent that I know of goes toward developing players who will represent the United States on future Davis Cup teams.

Japan and other nations abroad are away ahead of us in this respect, the results of which will come to light in the next few years.

Exporters Play First Exhibition Tilt Today

Special to the News.

BEAUMONT, Texas, March 23.—With the Exporters divided into the "Regulars" and the "Yammigans," Manager Bob Tarleton and "Boss" Edgington plan to start out today on Magnolia field in the first exhibition clash of the season on the local diamond. The fans are expected to overlook the field, and the game will probably be played despite the slight rain which fell here early today.

The lineup of the two teams follows: Regulars: Stump 2b, Turgeon ss, Huber 3b, Kirkham rf, Edgington cf, Strong 1b, Lottes c, Hopkins lf, Caldera p. Jacobus p. Townsont p.

Yammigans: Tarleton 1b, K. Eberhardt 2b, Dunn ss, Morris 3b, Haas rf, Sisson cf, D. Eberhardt, cf, Schroeder c, Witts p, Prejan p, Wiltsey p.

DIAMOND PUZZLES NO. 5

Can you identify this baseball player and tell an interesting fact about him? This is one of a dozen "Diamond Puzzles" being printed exclusively by The News. The 14th will be printed Saturday, March 31. Save your answers and send in the 22 before Tuesday, April 3, to the Sport Editor of The News.

Correct answers will be announced Saturday, April 7.

The name of this player has given many a batter a thrill. As a matter of fact, the very mention of his name in the line-up has made many a player develop sudden illness. Records are made nothing in the life of this star, yet he has one number to his credit. He has been a player who loved the limelight, and was constantly seeking to break into print, his wonderful ability would have enabled him to create records that would have probably stood for all time. Always a team player, he has let many an opportunity slip to create some new record. He has spent his entire career with the same club and seems good for many more years.

Another Puzzle Tomorrow.

Baylor Bears Start 1923 Baseball Season

WACO, Texas, March 23.—The Baylor Bears will formally open the 1923 baseball season when they meet Saint Edwards college of Austin here in a two game series today and Saturday.

The first conference games are not played until April 3 and 4 when T. C. U. comes to Waco for two games.

Couch Bridges' athletes have gone through daily workouts against the club team the last week, and although the players are not yet in prime condition, some have shown good form both at the bat and in the field. The pitchers were not allowed to curve any balls until Wednesday. However, the twirlers are expected to open up today and Saturday.

STEERS 6; BEES 3

DALLAS, March 23.—The Dallas Steers made the count two out of three with the Omaha bees, by defeating them 6 to 3 here yesterday. The Steers hammered out ten hits. Connolly, Davenport and Ryan worked for the locals in the box.

Owen Wonder

IT is just a case of being a college hero all the time with George Owen of Harvard.

During the gridiron season, Owen was the outstanding star of the football team. He had football talent that he took up hockey.

It's the same old story — the fine work of Owen in hockey is the big reason for Harvard hoping to have his superiority on the ice.

Owen starts equally at baseball, football and hockey. If he cared to do track work, coaches say that he would also shine. It would also be an easy matter for him to make the basketball team if he ordered the cage game to hockey.

Owen is unquestionably the most versatile athlete Harvard has turned out in years — a legitimate four-major-sports letter man, if he so cared.

American Horse Wins London Steeple Chase Over a Field of 28

LIVERPOOL, March 23.—An American-owned horse, S. Sanford's Sergeant Murphy, won the grand national steeple chase today from a field of 28 starters.

Sham Spudnik, winner two years ago, was second, and Conjuror II third.

More than 50,000 racing enthusiasts flocked to the historic Antree course for the Grand National Steeple Chase classic that wound up the English jumping season.

Three American-owned thoroughbreds were among the entries in the large field. Duettiste, from the Philadelphia stable of J. E. Wadsworth, A. Smith (Cochran), Libretto, and S. Sanford's Irish-trained Sergeant Murphy.

King George was present, as usual, as guest of the earl of Derby, who gives a party each year at Knowsley Hall nearby the track.

The course was four and one-half miles over stiff country with 19 obstacles, which must be negotiated twice.

TIGERS WIN TILT

AUGUSTA, Ga., March 23.—Ty Cobb's Detroit Tigers won their first pre-season game yesterday, defeating Augusta 6 to 5.

INDIANS PLAY TODAY

LAKELAND, Fla., March 23.—The Cleveland Indians schedule calls for a skunkish with the Dodgers today. The third game with the Reds was: Reds 1, Indians 3.

'KAMELIA' ORDER K.K.K.'S SISTER

Klan Wizard Announces Organization for Women

ATLANTA, Ga., March 23.—The "Kamelia," a national organization of women, founded by the first of the Ku Klux Klan, will be launched soon, William Joseph Simmons, imperial wizard of the Ku Klux Klan, announced here today.

The organization, which, according to the announcement, will function alongside of the Ku Klux Klan, is the result of a nationwide appeal from women, Simmons said.

Native born white, Protestant women of America above the age of 18 years will be admitted to the order, according to Simmons, who declared he will issue the ritualistic work of the organization within a short time.

The new secret order of which Simmons will be the head with the title of "El Magus," will be devoted to "a new consecration to the American home, to the American government, and to the American creed of Christianity as taught by the Protestant church," Simmons declared.

In his statement announcing the plans for the women's order, Simmons reviewed the growth of the Ku Klux Klan, which he founded seven years ago, declaring that in its successful growth he has been the accomplishment of a "dream of his youth."

"Always in my dream of a great renewal of Americanism there has been the contemplation of a woman's organization, sharing the same principles, committed to the same purpose and impelled by the same motives as the Ku Klux Klan," Simmons said.

Demand Came from Women

"For a considerable period the demand upon me for an organization of women has increased until the demand has become a clamor from all high every section of the United States. A response to the appeal of these earnest, devoted, patriotic women, can no longer be deferred.

"They must take their place alongside the Ku Klux Klan and co-operate with them in all their worthy movements and to coordinate their activities with all of their noble enterprises, helping to save the white man's civilization on the American continent, and thereby saving the white man's civilization throughout the world.

"It is one of the proudest moments of my life, now and here, to proclaim the foundation and creation of the women's organization to be known as the Kamelia, and in making this proclamation, to declare as the founder and creator of the Kamelia my official designation and title to be 'El Magus.'"

The statement was given under the hand and seal of the "Klan Wizard of El Magus," and signed by William Joseph Simmons in the title of El Magus.

BURR AND KIBBIE FREED OF ARSON

robbery in connection with the Thomas store blaze on October 4, 1932, appeared against the two white men, but failed to identify them as "the boys who came to my house in a big car the night of the fire." In an alleged confession made several days ago she identified both.

"I ain't positive," the negroess said. "In fact, I didn't know who it was that came there that night. I was in the front room and they came into the kitchen, whoever it was. The men that came had a whole lot of clothes and things, and they said we could have some of them if they could store them there at my house."

Identification Fails

Do you identify these men as the ones who came to your house?" attorneys for the defense queried.

"I couldn't positively say," the negroess responded.

Attempts on the part of the state to refresh her memory failed, and when the court had interrupted the procedure with the question:

"And these are the men you saw at your house that night?"

The negroess replied despondently:

"I couldn't say they was."

It is alleged by the state that merchandise said to have been identified by Thomas as his property was found in trunks in the Taylor negro's home which is situated a short distance from the rear of the Thomas store.

Store $20,000 Loss

The Thomas store was burned the morning of October 4, last year, entailing a loss of $20,000, it is said.

Pia Chief Justice, according to statements made from the witness stand during the Taylor woman's hearing, found the rear door of the place unlocked when he answered the fire call, and the screen door was also said to be open.

The chief testified at the negroess' hearing that the fire appeared to him to have been of incendiary origin.

Kibbie and Burr were immediately released yesterday afternoon following the hearing.

Edith Taylor and her husband, Fred Taylor, are both under bond of $1,000 on charges of burglary and arson in connection with the fire, while the police have in their possession approximately $800 worth of merchandise recovered from various negroes, including clothes and clothing they took from the Taylor negroes' house.

Some of the clothing had been identified by Thomas, it is said, as his own, while he admitted on the witness stand yesterday that he had no trade mark or other mark of identification except that the articles he lost resembled some of those shown him by Detective Chief Parsley.

NOW IT'S THE TUT SANDAL

The Tut sandal, named after the famous King Tutankhamen, is the latest in feminine footwear. Mary Potter is shown here wearing it at the convention of the Ohio Valley Retail Shoe Dealers Association, Columbus. Inset shows a close-up.

Identification Fails

Do you identify these men as the ones who came to your house?" attorneys for the defense queried.

"I couldn't positively say," the negroess responded.

Attempts on the part of the state to refresh her memory failed, and when the court had interrupted the procedure with the question:

"And these are the men you saw at your house that night?"

The negroess replied despondently:

INTERCOASTAL CANAL SURVEY

Gen. Beach Authorizes N.O.-Corpus Christi Project

HOUSTON, Texas, March 23.—A survey of the intercoastal canal from New Orleans to Corpus Christi has been authorized by General Lansing H. Beach, according to word received here late yesterday.

Colonel C. E. Hoffman of New Orleans was ordered to make the survey. It was learned from a statement by Hoffman to Roy Miller, vice president and general manager of the Intercoastal Canal association.

The order is in accordance with the act passed by congress and signed by the president on March 3, according to Miller.

The first step will be a preliminary examination or survey of the coastal canal situation. Colonel Hoffman will give this survey his attention about April 20, he said in the statement to Miller.

For a limited time the Corner Drug Store, Hart Drug Store, and Owl Drug Store of this city will sell three 50c bottles of F.A.T.-AS-U-LIK for $1.00 (the price of two). If after taking one bottle the purchaser is not satisfied, he may take the two remaining bottles back to the drug store, unopened, and his $1.00 will be refunded.

WOODWORTH DIES SUDDENLY, STROKE

Woodworth was selling farming machinery for the A. W. Stevens Co. out of Chicago. For a time they roomed together in Madison, later Woodworth coming to Port Arthur. Groves came here to visit his friend several times and later decided to make Port Arthur his residence.

Up until three o'clock this afternoon, funeral arrangements for Mr. Woodworth had not been completed, and the body is being prepared for burial at the J. E. Grammer undertaking parlors.

The statement was given under the hand and seal of the "Klan Wizard of El Magus," and signed by William Joseph Simmons in the title of El Magus.

"I ain't positive," the negroess said. "In fact, I didn't know who it was that came there that night. I was in the front room and they came into the kitchen, whoever it was. The men that came had a whole lot of clothes and things, and they said we could have some of them if they could store them there at my house."

GOTHAM BOOZE FORGERS HELD

Accused of Attempt to Withdraw Liquor

NEW YORK, March 23.—Charles and Ralph Sabatino, warehouse owners, are under arrest today charged with attempting to withdraw $100,000 worth of liquor on forged permits obtained through bribery. The liquor was seized.

The Sabatinos are alleged to have offered $40,000 to Assistant Prohibition Directors John A. Murphy and Lester A. Reeves, who sprung the trap. Of this offered bribe $20,000 annually was paid to Murphy, it was charged.

When the Sabatinos' warehouse was raided by agents, the brothers rushed to their supposed "confederates" for aid and were arrested.

YOU AND I

UNDERSTANDING
The long-distance dancing craze continues among the young people of Scotland and England. In Edinburgh two couples danced over 21 hours without stopping.
Buenos Aires cables that Anna Outbrod, girl swimmer, swam 22 hours 47 minutes without stopping.
Desire to increase endurance is becoming an international psychic wave. Its meaning? Probably that the world is getting ready to buckle down to hard work to unsholder the war debt. Watch dancing. It's humanity's weather-vane. The maniacal resilience that precipitated the world war started with the tango craze in Buenos Aires.

LOSING
Something serious to worry about: Plough lands throughout the country are worth an average of 26 cents on the dollar less than they were three years ago. Value of an acre of plough land now is about $66, compared with nearly $70 a year ago, $84 two years ago and $90 in 1920.
The lower price, regulated by demand, means that farming is steadily becoming less attractive. That's natural, considering unfairly low prices received by farmers. They must get a larger share of prosperity or cities will have a real food problem and smaller markets for city-made goods.

TREASURES
Flood of art treasures is flowing toward our country from Europe. Art treasures change hands a lot after every big war. They're part of the spoils that go to the victor. So apparently we won the war. However, we're paying fancy prices for them, millions of dollars. That's better than the old way, when looting armies stole the art treasures and carried them off as part of their plunder. Some day, when one civilization vanishes, the same art treasures and others will go to Brazil and Australia, destined to be the leading world powers. Not while you live.

SNAKES
Don't kill snakes, warns Remington Kellogg. He's the scientist who has been studying food habits of reptiles for Uncle Sam. Snakes, he finds, are invaluable as pest destroyers. Their diet includes field mice, rats, and other crop ravagers.
Nature maintains a wonderful system of checks and balances. Everything that exists has its definite purpose. When we destroy life of any kind, we interfere with nature, except as nature's whole scheme is for life to prey on life.

VICTIMS
Thirty skeletons of men, women and children are dug up on the outskirts of Paris when workmen break into an underground room. These skeletons belonged to people who were walled up alive during religious wars about 500 years ago. They had clawed the walls in frenzy. The Christian idea of how to convert has changed a lot in five centuries.
Human nature does change.

FACTS FOR JONES

Our venerable contemporary the Congressional Record is a costly publication. Official Washington says the bill for printing the Record during the recent session of the 67th congress, comprising 75 legislative days, will exceed $300,000,000. A delayed issue of the Record costs more than $10,000 to print and the speeches printed and the extensions, that is speeches never delivered on the floors of congress, cost more than $5,500.

Remarks of Senator Hefflin of Alabama occupy 49 1-2 pages, costing about $2,475 and of this amount more than $1100 will go to pay for printing letters and editorials from country newspapers for assaults on the Federal Reserve board. Official Washington says Senator Hefflin actually spoke from the floor 27 1-2 pages of the space allotted to him in the delayed issue of the ponderous congressional daily document.

Official Washington furnishes the printing costs for some of the speeches which were not delivered but were printed as extensions in the $10,000 Record. One Texas congressman, Thomas L. Blanton, exhausted $575 worth of space for his extensions; William D. Upshaw of Georgia was more modest. His extensions cost Jones $325. Martin B. Madden of Illinois led the list. His extensions cost the Jones family $450.

W. Frank James, a Michigander, let Jones off by the payment of $425. Miss Alice Robertson of Oklahoma had an extension speech. She was very modest. She taxed Jones $150 for the printing of that which she did not say on the floor of the House of Representatives but did say in the pages of the Congressional Record.

Other representatives who did not speak, but are represented in the extension list with their undelivered remarks costing the treasury $100 a lift, include Clay Stone Briggs of Texas as well as Tom Connolly. Doubtless these gentlemen had something important to say and could not get it in while holding the floor. Clay Stone Briggs does not talk often on the floor or in the Record. Tom Connolly talks when he has a message and when he does talk it is admitted that he says something.

Circulation of the Congressional Record is about 40,000, of which, it is said, not more than one per cent or two per cent represents a paid circulation. Each senator is allotted 88 copies and each representative 68 copies. This alone accounts for 37,488 circulation. Of the remaining less than 3,000 issued probably less than 300 copies are listed as free circulation.

The Record is not a pictorial publication. It does not run a society or a sport page, a market or an editorial page. There are no modern features and cartoons are barred. It is for the servants of the house of Jones, the house of Jones being the taxpayers of the republic, and the high spots in the Record are the extensions made by Hefflin of Alabama, Blanton of Texas, Upshaw of Georgia, Madden of Illinois, and others who are spellbinders and who believe in saying it in cold type when denied the privilege of saying it on the floor of either house. General Charles D. Dawes of Chicago did not overlook the Congressional Record when he made his famous budget. Then he quit.

Dallas is to have a million dollar sub-postoffice, and the building will be near the Union Terminal station. What is Houston doing?

MEXICAN CRUDE PROSPECTS

Edward L. Dohney is the Napoleon of Mexican crude. He is the father of Mexican Pet and president of half a dozen other companies doing business under the flag of Mexico.

Not long ago A. C. Bedford of the Standard Oil company declared that half of the $500,000,000 invested by foreign oil companies in Mexico would probably be lost and that further development of the oil industry in Mexico was doomed as a result of confiscatory legislation and Mexican governmental decrees.

King Edward retaliated. That is, he made a prompt rejoinder. He declared that his interests and the interests of his associates in Mexico are and have been satisfactory, having yielded and are still yielding excellent returns. King Dohney is an optimist. He believes the Mexican government will see the light, and in the interest of Mexico will adopt such measures, legally and otherwise as will encourage the continued development of the oil industry in that country.

Moreover, he is content to continue his activities in the undeveloped portions of his great Mexican holdings, with faith in the eventual prevalence of justice and good understanding in Mexico. King Dohney laughs at the prediction of an oil famine in America.

California, he says, with a host of developers energetically drilling throughout the state for more than thirty years, has been, in the opinion of the press reports or publicity agents, exhausted several times during the period. Whereas, it is producing today at a rate more than double what it produced in 1921 and the future of the industry there certainly looks as bright or brighter than it ever did, to the confusion of those who predicted its exhaustion many years ago.

King Dohney was a pioneer in the California fields. He pioneered in the Mexican fields. Speaking of the future, he said the conditions that prevailed in California are true in regard to Mexico and as far as propagandists and their well paid publicity agents, the petroleum king says the prediction of exhaustion for Mexico was made by so-called experts in the spring of 1920 has not been fulfilled as the record of shipments will show.

Under proper encouragement and support such as the oil industry in receiving in California and elsewhere, the production of oil in Mexico should continue for unnumbered years at a varying rate from time to time, but always a substantial and as satisfactory as the policies of the government of Mexico will permit.

This reminds the writer that the first well in the mid-continent territory was drilled at Electra. Men said that the Electra field would be exhausted in a few years. They were false prophets. Electra is on the map today, a splendid producing territory, and the surface hasn't been scratched. Really the petroleum industry, or rather the producing end of it, is in its infancy in Texas.

Burkhardt was passed up by geologists. They said there were not external evidence of oil. Mexico was passed up by geologists. They scoffed at the idea that there were gold sands under the crust of the earth.

A former German ambassador to Great Britain has accepted employment as the manager of a cigar factory. And it has come to pass in Germany that lordlings must either work or starve.

Senator Floyd would prohibit school teachers and officials from being interested in text book sales or holding stock in book depositories. Wouldn't this be a thrust at the personal liberty and pocket book of teachers who are text book writers?

Questionable oil concerns in Texas are being probed by a special federal grand jury at Fort Worth. In charging his grand jury, Federal Judge James C. Wilson, speaking of oil stock transactions under investigation, declared that some are frauds from their inception and others are not so bad. Isn't a fraud a fraud?

If we could see

What isn't yet but what is yet to be:

If we could learn

Just how the wheel of fate is bound to turn:

If it were clear

What will transpire next week, next

We wouldn't find

As much of fun as when we go it blind.

We'd lose the thrill

Of gambling whether luck be good or ill.

We would abide

Within a world where all was cut and dried.

And sick and sore,

We'd find it most decidedly a bore.

But since we can't

See far ahead or even take a slant

At anything

We get a kick

By guessing whether fate's hand holds a brick

Or a bouquet—

It's better thus than any other way.

And then last—

We couldn't change it if we tried.

Devotion to Christ

"She hath done what she could."

Mark 14:8.

Read Mark 14:1-11.

"The ideal home-maker is the ideal philanthropist. She dresses her family with scarlet, and she reaches forth both hands to the great world which needs her."

MEDITATION: See how Jesus evaluates sentiment! The devotion of Mary that broke the alabaster box is one with woman's God-given impulses, which beget mother love and all the family of altruistic passions which elevate the race. Well may we reverence it!

HYMN:

In simple trust like theirs who heard,

Beside the Syrian sea,

The gracious calling of the Lord,

Let us, like them, without a word,

Rise up and follow thee.

Fantors to Consider When Arranging Flowers in Vase

ORIGINALITY in the arrangement of flowers for almost any occasion is an accomplishment for which numerous Port Arthur hostesses are noted.

The arranging of flowers appeals to most women, and particularly to those who have the ability to give expression to artistic taste. An effective result is not obtained merely by placing a number of flowers in a vase; the species of flower, the shape of the vase or bowl, the position in which it is to be placed must all be taken into consideration.

There is scope for originality in flower arrangement, and very often a few blossoms tastefully treated will achieve a greater decorative effect than many flowers bunched inartistically together.

At the moment there is a vogue for the old-fashioned, square, or triangular vases. The best effect with a bouquet of flowers is achieved by placing a bunch of flowers in a vase, the species of flower, the shape of the vase or bowl, the position in which it is to be placed must all be taken into consideration.

Lightly packed bouquets of mixed flowers standing in a tall vase are uncommon and charming. A bouquet of mixed and purple sweet peas, lavender tulips and lilies, surrounded by silver leaves or silver lace paper, is very pleasing. A square dish of fruit made an effective table decoration for an informal luncheon recently. A long trailer creeper was arranged around the edge of the dish and enhanced the appearance of the table.

Excellent for decorative purposes is a diamond shaped or round painted wooden holder for small candles. This is especially suitable for placing around a birthday cake.

If the mark of a king is his crown, the mark of a gentleman is his hat, and how he handles it. The hat has a social language all its own. There is a suitable hat for every occasion and a suitable style of hat for every head. A man's method of lifting or doffing his hat may be as expressive of gentility as his bearing in a hall room.

THE MAN'S HAT

1: The man takes off his hat when riding with a woman in an elevator in a club, hotel, apartment or store; when he stops to speak to a woman on the street when he must wait for a funeral to pass, when the national colors are passing, and when the national anthem is played.

2: A man merely lifts his hat as a conventional gesture to strangers, whenever he must recognize their presence.

3: A man lifts his hat when offering a woman a seat in a car, and again when she thanks him—which she should invariably do.

4: Whenever a man unavoidably obstructs or a woman, "see" when meeting her in a narrow passage where he must make way, he lifts his hat.

5: A man lifts his hat and bows and the cordiality of his smile being when meeting acquaintances or friends, the graciousness of his bow would create.

SLAM MURDERERS HELD

Two Murder Was Done By Masked Men

DIXON, Ky., March 22.—The little western Kentucky community is in the midst of an extraordinary murder mystery. Archie Simpson, 25 years old, the best known young man in the town, has been slain. Companions of the victim say a masked man shot him; officials charge complicity in the killing against three of the young fellow's close friends. The suspects are John Boucher, Vernon Greer, and John Louis Hudson. The three accused men give the story as follows:

Simpson, Boucher, Greer and Hudson were in a pumping station on Trade-water river bank early on a recent night. Boucher operated the pumping station. Suddenly the door swung open and a masked man entered. He had on a "slicker" coat and a bandanna handkerchief covered his eyes. He leveled a pistol at the men and commanded, "Hold up your hands."

All obeyed except Simpson, who advanced smiling toward the highwayman. The robber thrust his revolver almost against Simpson and shot him through the heart. Simpson fell near the other men and died instantly.

The masked man then fled through the door and disappeared toward Shade Grove, a settlement in that section, while the men who say they saw the killing fled, going in a direction opposite to that taken by the murderer. The men gave the alarm, and because of their excitement at seeing one of their number shot to death were unable to give much of a description of the murderer especially as they did not see his face. However, they agreed that he "was unusually big."

No one else saw such a person in many miles on any side of the scene of the killing. That neighborhood is so sparsely settled that a stranger is marked before he goes far. Then Coroner Keeney, J. W. Webster county held an inquest. He ordered a warrant for the three men. Evidence was not made public. It is claimed the motive was robbery, as Simpson usually carried a considerable sum of money.

Women Toil Because They Need the Money
WASHINGTON, March 23.—A large majority of the women who are gainfully employed in the United States are working because they need the money for their own support or that of their families, the labor department has learned from an extensive survey.

The department has disproved the commonly accepted theory that most women work because they desire to keep busy during the day or to find the natural excitement that some types of employment afford.

A surprising number of married women were found to be employed. Their reasons were very similar, all aimed toward helping the family income for some reason or other.

"I am going to give my children an education if I have to crawl on my hands and knees to do it," one woman said.

Another was working in order to save money so that her boy could have his adenoids removed; another because her husband was sick. One woman was applying her salary toward paying for a home.

Figures of the census bureau show that one woman in every five in the country is gainfully employed. In the District of Columbia nearly half of the women are working—the largest proportion—while not far from a third are earning money in South Carolina, Rhode Island and Massachusetts.

ICE DRIFT MAY ALTER CLIMATE

Warmer Weather Possible For Puget Sound

SEATTLE, March 23.—Much warmer weather on the shores of Puget Sound but continued years of colder climate for Japan are probable as a result of the abnormal drift of the Arctic ice-pack which this winter is filling Bering sea, while an ice dam closing the 51 miles between Alaska and Siberia seems certain.

According to latest reports from trappers venturing far northward on the Alaskan peninsula, large ice floes have completely filled the waterway separating the two continents. From general observations the southward trend of the Arctic ice-pack is backed by the whole fields of flows filling the waters of the northern ocean.

Scientists have held that the Arctic ice-pack moves in seven-year cycles which bring periodic shifts of cold to the whole northwest of this country and the northwestern sections of the Asiatic continent. This winter has been unusually severe in North America, threatening the spring rice crops, leekages are in Japanese waters for the first time in a generation.

Bering sea ice floes have moved so far south that the possibility of the continental at Nome being ready for spring navigation seems remote.

The direct result of the closing of Bering Strait for one season, or even a year would be a shift of climate for Pacific coast countries. With the strait closed and the usual open ocean wind closed, the cold Arctic current could not flow southward into the Pacific. The cold current barred, the warm Japan current flowing from the equatorial regions north of Borneo north past Japan and eastward to the Aleutians and southward toward Puget Sound would bring warm weather to the Northwest.

Should the Arctic ice movement keep the channel closed for years the semi-tropical plants would grow in Alaska.

Flows of tropical animals found in Alaska and Siberia prove that formerly the ice movement caused a shift in climate in the zone axis and while nothing so radical will likely occur again, yet the probability of a sea's change in temperature is foreseen by meteorologists.

We'll Soon Order Our Rain or Sunshine By Airplane Through Use of Electric Sand

MOUNDSVILLE, W. Va., March 23.—Whenever the farmer wants rain, he will get it.

Whenever the sport fan wants sunshine, he will have it.

Yes, weather will be supplied hereafter as desired, even though the sun and clouds threaten to spoil the day for farmer or fan.

The promising possibility comes from tests already proved successful at Dayton, O., and at Langley Field, here, in which army aviators have been able to bring on rain or to dissipate threatening clouds. The experiments are being conducted under the supervision of Prof. Wilbur D. Bancroft of Cornell University and Prof. L. Francis Warren of New York.

Bancroft and Warren do not claim they can make rain or dissipate clouds in every instance, but they have so far succeeded to produce the desired results in most attempts made.

In one of the experiments conducted here a wind-driven generator was used to charge a load of sand with 10,000 volts positively or negatively, as the operator desired. This electrified sand was scattered over the clouds while the plane was soaring 500 feet higher at a speed of 100 miles an hour.

Observations showed that these highly charged particles made a large hole through the clouds in a fraction of a second. Finer dust particles, among which there are a number of things I know I never shall need as the wife of a comparatively poor man, and then have to live on almost as little as I had spent up to that time as my personal allowance.

I had been very stubborn about getting an income on me. I think I was nuts to try it out.

Some day, perhaps, I may be looking my rose point wedding veil. Mother says she bought it for me that I might pass it on to my children and children's children. Privately, I think mother is starting in the ancestor business herself. You know John's family is strong in any case, and poor old dad (Aunt) have to have a ton of pug lion rampant as part of his coat of arms. I do not think he ever knew either his father or mother. He was brought up in an orphanage.

See tells me that your married life is to be as thoroughly modern as your wedding was, that each one of you will put his share into the living expenses and each one of you will live the same life as you did before except that you will have the joy of each other's companionship and love.

That sounds perfectly lovely in theory, Sally, but what if you should

$1,500 Scattered Blocks on Street; $1,480 Returned

SHREVEPORT, La., March 23.—Evidence that the people of the Sixth ward in this city should get all the medals for honesty was given when $1,500 was scattered to all parts of that portion of the city, and all of it except $20 was returned to the owners, the Konrad Schrier Co.

An employee of the Schrier company took a roll of bills totaling $1,500 and started to the bank to deposit it. He put the money in a wallet and got into his automobile for the trip to the bank. Just as he stepped into the car, the wallet dropped unnoticed on the running board. He drove off, and a second afterward, the mouth of the wallet having come open, the bills were carried in all directions by the wind.

The driver continued to the bank and there discovered the loss. He was not long in finding out after his return to the office what happened. Bills were being carried back in all quantities and descriptions. Some of the money was picked up blocks away.

AN INTIMATE STORY OF INNERMOST EMOTIONS REVEALED IN PRIVATE LETTERS

LETTER FROM LESLIE HAMILTON TO SALLY ATHONTON, DEAR SALLY:

I am writing to you because I know you of all my friends will be the one who can appreciate my feelings at this time.

I spent the evening with 'Bee the other night and she told me that you and your young husband seem to be perfectly happy. Of course, I cannot understand it, for, your father which you call "the economic independence of women," and I was once hospitalized when Bee told me that you intended to keep your position as private secretary for Mr. Sampson, after you were married, although your husband was perfectly able to care for you adequately on his salary.

Indeed, Sally dear, I think that Mr. Athonton is getting quite as much money as is Jack, and we are not only planning on making quite a home, but of entertaining a little as well.

Bee tells me that you also were very unconventional in your wedding arrangements. That with the exception of herself, no one was present at the ceremony, which was merely a civil service at the city hall immediately after the license had been obtained.

I was quite surprised the other day to find that my young sister, Alice, seemed to have been vaccinated with the same radical idea in regard to marriage and married life.

I am so very tired with all this blub and bustle over my own marriage that I can almost ready to sympathize with both of you. However, you know mother, and you know she never would be happy unless she made all Sharon Society sit up and take notice of the marriage of her oldest daughter. Besides, I have heard many an old married woman tell with great joy of the pomp of her wedding. Mother has ceased never to bewail the fact that her marriage was an elopement.

I am going to tell you something, Sally dear, that I have not dared to mention to anyone else. It does seem rather incongruous to have a twenty-thousand dollar wedding trousseau.

ENTERS PROTEST

Protest of Change
at Highway 8

March 23.—A protest against the proposed change in State Highway No. 8 to the route via Shreve and Vicksburg, La., was made by the Chamber of Commerce here Thursday. The effort to change the highway was made "without the knowledge or consent" of Orange county highway representatives, the county judge said.

An additional seven miles to the route would be added by the proposed change. There are no work in the county, and it is to be expected that the route of the highway will be changed within the next four or five weeks, it was expected. A Houston representative of the Western Marine and Salvage company, which purchased the 16 wooden vessels sometime ago, has been placed in charge of them.

Fifty-two ships, 31 of them steel vessels, three tug-boats, and 16 wooden ships, are in the company's storage here, and none of the vessels have been put in commission within the past four or five weeks, it was expected. A Houston representative of the Western Marine and Salvage company, which purchased the 16 wooden vessels sometime ago, has been placed in charge of them.

An increase of 800 barrels in the daily production of Cheslow well No. 8, bringing the total up to 2,500 barrels, occurred Wednesday, according to reports from the oil field. The well was brought in with 500 barrels the next day to 2,500 barrels, dropped to 1,500, and Wednesday came the 800 barrel increase.

NE WYORK, March 23.—When Purser E. T. Brown, of the Pacific line came into port a few weeks ago, he told reporters that lobstermen grow so large in the Pacific off the island of Juan de Fernandez, the famous Robinson Crusoe island, that they bit chunks out of the anchor chains. The ship news reporters jollied him.

"All right," he said, "I'll show you." The other day when the Ebro arrived from the west coast ports of South America, Mr. Brown made the reporters take water—yes, water.

For in the purser's cabin was a lobster that weighed nearly 25 pounds and when the curl was taken out of his tail measured nearly two feet in length.

There are dents in the Ebro's anchor chain.

This School Ma'am Has a Fine Eye For Business

NEW YORK, March 23.—A dollar, a dollar, a nickel scholar does not quite fit the case over on Bayonne, N. J., if the charges against a teacher in a grade school there prove founded on fact. This young lady is charged with fining her 10 o'clock scholars a nickel.

Thomas J. Kernan, a former president of the board of education in Bayonne, said he had brought the matter to the attention of the board and the teacher has been summoned to explain these Monday night.

According to what Mr. Kernan learned, the teacher in question had been in the habit of fining the children a nickel for tardiness and other small infractions of the rules. This system worked with those children who came from foreign born parents but leaked out when a wiser parent decided to find out why his son had to pay these fines.

ARMED RELATIVES OF DEAD PATROL LITTLE GRAVE YARD, THREATENED WITH SEIZURE BY OIL INTERESTS

By United Press.

TOKAWA, Okla., March 22.—Indian warfare has been revived in Oklahoma.

This time, it is not the Indian who is attacking, but the white man who is attacking the Indian.

The white man has taken the offensive. Today in the heart of America's greatest oil field—the Tonkawa district—under siege by the white man is a half-acre plot where the remains of 250 pioneers, majority of which are full or part blood Indians, are buried.

Surrounded by derricks. Circling for miles around the little United Brothers cemetery are numerous derricks, segregating it from the outside world. Up to its very fences the towers have come.

Minimum of the tonnage has been replaced by the loss of a thousand oil pumps beating against the earth sucking "black gold" from its bowels.

A band of scouts representing the Knox Oil company of Eufaula, Okla., entered the cemetery ready to attack and plant wells on the plot held sacred since 1919. With them are wagons loaded with apparatus ready to sink in at the signal.

Billed in Church. They are restrained until Monday, however, by a court injunction.

Billed inside the church are scores of relatives of the dead armed with shot guns and instructions to disperse any attempt of the "interests" to plant wells on the plot.

Other than the customary tears and condolences, burial has been postponed since the little band of pioneers, a representative of the Knox company, who came to inspect the plot last week.

Officials of the Knox company maintain they have authority to drill in the cemetery under a lease bought from early owners. They are not with the declaration of the farmers' union, which is in the contract for the cemetery.

Until next Monday, when the case is to be decided in court, the state of siege will continue both sides asserted.

We will deliver anything anytime anywhere. Cottage Pharmacy, Phone 19 and 2148.

5 STITCHES IN NEGRO'S HEART

Hurt in Brawl, Will Recover
By Operation

ATLANTA, Ga., March 23.—An extraordinary operation upon a heart, rare in the annals of surgery, was successfully performed recently by a young surgeon less than two years out of college. Dr. William R. Smith, a graduate of Cornell, with the class of 1919, saved up the heart of a young negro stabbed in a brawl in Atlanta on Lincoln's birthday.

The operation, characterized by Atlanta surgical men as one of the most remarkable in their experience, is believed by them to have been the first surgery of the heart attempted since 1890.

As a result of Dr. Smith's daring operation, Glenn Freeman, a young negro boy, is now at Grady Hospital here on the road to recovery. His heart was lifted out of its normal position, a ragged knife wound sewed up and the heart replaced in its normal position, with the flow of blood halted.

The day after the operation, performed late in the evening, Dr. Smith predicted that the boy would recover and would suffer few if any ill effects as a result of his close shave with death.

As soon as Freeman fell, with a gasp in his side that seemed certain to prove fatal, he was rushed to Grady Hospital and placed on the operating table in the negro ward. Dr. Smith, resident surgeon at the hospital, was called.

Dr. Smith made a triangular incision over the fifth rib, removed three inches of the rib and made an inch and a half incision in the pericardium, the fibrous sac that surrounds the heart. The he pushed the heart up through the incision in the pericardium, sewed up the gash in the right ventricle and replaced the heart in its normal position.

Five stitches were taken in the heart. And after each was sewed, Dr. Smith had to replace the heart in its normal position for a while so that it would continue beating.

We will have for Sunday fresh fruit, pineapple and orange sherbert. College Pharmacy, Phone 19 and 2148.

Quick Oats

Quick Quaker Oats
The quickest cooking oats in the world

Quaker Oats now come in two styles, the Quick and the regular. Quick Quaker cooks in 3 to 5 minutes. It is the quickest cooking oats in the world.

The two styles are identical in quality and flavor. Both are flaked from clean grains only—just the rich, plump, flaky oats. But have that lusciousness which has won the world to Quaker.

But in Quick Quaker the oats are cut before flaking. They are rolled very thin and partly cooked. So the flakes are smaller and thinner—that is all. And the small thin flakes cook quickly.

Your grocer has both styles. If you want the Quick look for "Quick" on the label. Those oats will cook perfectly in 3 to 5 minutes.

University Sophomore "Kidded" Into Being a Candidate for Mayor and Now Likely to Win

KANSAS CITY, March 23.—A university sophomore of 21 may become mayor of Kansas City, Kan., city of more than 100,000 population. It all started as a prank, but now seems likely to become a real race—the candidacy of "Tab" Wyatt, student at Kansas City University and captain of last season's football team.

"Tab"—more properly called T. Lambert Wyatt—was put into the primary race by students as a university joke. Newspapers and voters took on the matter and soon Wyatt became the most widely discussed of a half dozen candidates.

Statue of Washington May Face White House

WASHINGTON, March 23.—District of Columbia officials with the reported approval of President Harding, are planning to move the equestrian statue of Andrew Jackson from Lafayette park, facing the White House, exchanging for it the mounted replica of George Washington. The latter statue is in Washington Circle. Both statues are the work of Clark Mills, one of the most distinguished sculptors of his day. While the Washington statue has attracted much favorable attention, that of Mr. Jackson has come in for a great deal of criticism because of the so-called hobby horse effect attaching to it.

candidates had a following that divides the vote many ways. In Kansas City, Kan., there are no party lines. The two candidates receiving the most votes in the primary become the candidates in a second and final election.

His Chances Good

Predictions are made that division among the other candidates may make young Wyatt one of the successful men in the primary and followers of other unsuccessful candidates may turn to his support in the final election.

The position pays $4,000 a year. When the formalities were gone through to put Wyatt, football star of the small university into the race, it was expected the matter would be dropped.

But politicians grabbed at the possible chance to strike at their enemies. The students were encouraged. Next students declared a holiday and staged a downtown parade to host their fellow student.

SEEKS $50,000 HEART BALM

Mrs. Burnett, Texas Rodeo
Rider, Defendant

TOWA PARK, Texas, March 23.—Mrs. Lucile Miller Burnett, who is widely known among the ranchmen and cowboys of the southwest for her prowess in rodeo competitions, has again been brought into the limelight by a suit which has been filed against her and her former husband, Tom L. Burnett, multimillionaire ranchman, by Mrs. J. J. Cobb of Iowa Park, Tex., court, which was filed in the district court at Wichita Falls, seeks to recover $50,000 damages from Mrs. Burnett and Burnett for alleged alienation of affections of her husband from whom she is now separated.

Soon after the Burnetts were married, Cobb spent much time at the home of the ranchmen—sometimes in company with both, and sometimes in company with Lucile Burnett alone. Mrs. Cobb charged. Whiskey and the inducement of association with Mrs. Burnett caused her husband to lose his love and affection for her. She said she endeavored to win back Cobb, but failed.

Cobb is a longtime resident of Iowa Park, a real estate man, and is prominent in republican politics.

Vote Against BALL PARK

Certain property owners of the City of Port Arthur, and especially those owning property and residing on or near Lake Shore Drive, most sincerely object to the City Commission granting to any person or persons the right to construct a baseball field in Lake Shore Park, and especially at the point now contemplated, and urge the following reasons for this objection:

A baseball park or grounds naturally precludes the use of the space allotted for any other purpose than that of staging of baseball games.

Park grounds in the city of Port Arthur are now of very small area and what was once a parking system of large area has been reduced by successive grants until a very small portion is left. The grants, heretofore have generally been for school and civic purposes and while the wisdom of these grants have sometime heretofore been questioned, it was recognized that the grants were for educational and civic purposes and no serious protest has heretofore been lodged against such use.

The sport of baseball, as the same now exists, is strictly a commercial proposition, the promoters enclosing the grounds with a high and usually an unsightly fence and charging admission fees to the grounds. The commercial spirit does not end with the charge for entrance fee, but, on the contrary, extends to the leasing of advertising privileges on the walls of the enclosure, which are unsightly when maintained in the close proximity of a first class residential district.

The contemplated location of this park is quite near to our public high school buildings and grounds, where hundreds of pupils are in daily attendance. The school board has already gone on record as protesting the location of the ball park, upon the ground that it will greatly detract from the attention of the students to their studies, as games will undoubtedly be played during a portion of the school hours.

We also think it an unwise policy to allow the erection of an unsightly structure in the near proximity to our high school building, and it can also be reasonably assumed that within a very few years the school district will probably need additional building space and play grounds especially for the pupils attending the high school, and at present the directors of the expansion will be over the territory where it is proposed to locate the baseball park.

As a matter of course many games will be staged upon the field and others are consequently opposed to Sunday games. Many games should not be staged in close proximity to the school district, but they should, if staged upon Sunday, be at some place where they will not offend the conscience and sensibilities of citizens who are opposed to Sunday games.

We believe that what little park space is left should be from time to time beautiful and put to use similar to the park space that has been improved by the Lion's club. This, of course, as the city grows, will be done from time to time, either by the city itself or by some other civic organization similar to the Lion's Club. If our park space is not preserved, it will only be a short time until there will be no play grounds or recreation spots left in the city, which will have the result of forcing the children upon the streets when seeking recreation.

The City of Port Arthur already owns a park admirably adapted to the staging of athletic sports, namely the Pleasure Pier Park, located on Lake Sabine. This park is only a short distance from the business heart of the city. It is over eight acres in extent, high and well drained. It is served by good shell roads and also by a street car line. It has cost the citizens of Port Arthur almost a quarter of a million dollars and was presented to the City as a free gift. For reasons not here necessary to state, it has not heretofore served the purpose for which it was built and maintained, but this is no reason why it cannot now be put to the use of which it was intended. It is stated by some persons that the surface soil of this park is impregnated with shell, which detracts from its use as a baseball field. We do not know whether this is true or not, but, if true, certainly the same would for ball playing can be resurfaced with soil or sand of a suitable nature.

We believe that the location of the baseball field in Lake Shore Park where contemplated will constitute a great element of danger as there will be hundreds of automobiles parked along Lake Shore Drive, which will block the traffic. This will not happen occasionally, but we assume on the average of twice a week in addition to Sunday during the baseball season.

We further believe that a ball park such as is contemplated cannot be legally established in Lake Shore Park under the terms of its dedication by its former owners; and if this be so, then we do think the vote of the people even though in favor thereof would not authorize the City Commission to violate the terms of the dedication.

Modern baseball, in addition to being an athletic sport, is also a commercial and money making proposition and we do not think it right and proper for the City Commission to grant to any person or body of persons any land in any of the City Parks for commercial purposes; if the promoters of the baseball park cannot obtain the use of the Pleasure Pier Park then they should obtain land of their own in the same manner as other commercial propositions obtain business sites.

It is desired by every one that the City Park grounds should present a clean and neat appearance, and to this end the City had already refused permission to carnivals, shows, and other like institutions for using any portion of the park on the ground that such use detracted from the beauty and cleanliness of the park, and certainly the erection and maintenance of a baseball field will not only deprive the citizens of the use of that portion of the park but will call for the erection of an unsightly, dingy and non artistic structure and enclosure.

The view from the city across and over Lake Shore drive has as yet not been destroyed by ugly and unsightly buildings and structures, and surely the City Commission should by all means stand firm as against any such contemplated use of the park as is presented by the promoters of the baseball grounds in question.

CIVIL WAR NAVY HERO IN HOUSTON

Admiral Wright Seeks Confederate Records

HOUSTON, Texas, March 23.—Admiral A. O. Wright of Jacksonville, Fla., commander of the Confederate Naval Veterans, is a visitor in Houston.

Admiral Wright is now engaged on the mission of raising a fund to further the work of restoring the records of the men of the South, who served in the Confederate navy. He points out that records of the soldiers who fought in the sixties have been preserved in the capitals of the states from which they enlisted, but that the records of the heroes who fought and died in the Confederate navy were destroyed when Richmond fell.

"The 13 Southern states furnished 6500 sailors to the Confederate navy," Admiral Wright said. "Each state averaging about 500 men. Of more than 1000 of these, there is no official record on file anywhere."

"With the aid of the Masons and other benevolent orders, and with the educational department of each Southern state, I am organizing an effort to cover every neighborhood in the South, and am being put in touch with the descendants of our dead seamen, and obtaining from them all information possible showing the enlistment, service and discharge of these heroes of the sea, and placing it in the archives of each state, alongside the records of the Confederate soldiers, thus rescuing from oblivion some record of what they did during the war of the sixties."

"The men of the navy fought as nobly and as valiantly as the men of the army, and though their names have been kept intact, while those of the navy have been destroyed. Possibilities should have the records of the Confederate naval heroes of the sixties, and every governor of every state in the South is with us, has understood our plan, and has promised to help us."

"There is no fund available from any source to carry on this work," the admiral stated, "and I am traveling on my own, doing what I can with my limited resources to restore the records and remove the stigma from the names of the officers who served the South so valiantly during the war."

Admiral Wright was born in Alabama in 1841. He was educated in the United States Naval Academy and served as a midshipman in the United States navy in 1860 and 1861. He became an officer in the Confederate navy in 1861 and served as such until the end of the war. All United States naval officers who fought for the South were branded as deserters by the government and it is this stigma that Admiral Wright is striving to have removed from the names of the old heroes of the sea.

He served throughout the war as commander of the gunboat Hampton under Admiral Raphael Semmes, the hero of the old Alabama.

After the war he served as county judge in Alabama until 1872; practiced journalism from 1872 to 1875, and was a school teacher for eight years from 1875 to 1883.

FIND 49 SNAKES UNDER BIG ROCK

Stupefied by Cold, Are Easily Captured

ROBERT LEE, Texas, March 23.—In a raid on a den of rattlesnakes near here by the Gargman and L. C. Gargman, 49 of the reptiles were killed. The snakes were coiled under a big rock in a great bunch. Stupefied by the cold weather they were unable to fight and the men captured them with poles, in which were attached strong fish-hooks. Some of the snakes were of enormous size and one had 15 rattles.

Rattlesnakes have become so numerous in some parts of the ranch region of West and Southwest Texas during the last few years that they are a serious menace to livestock and human beings. An unsuccessful effort was made in the legislature to have a law enacted providing a bounty of 50 cents for each rattlesnake killed. While this measure was generally favored it was thought that its enforcement might impose a too heavy burden upon the state.

CAPTAIN'S WIFE SUES COLONEL

Says He Ordered Mate to Divorce Her

SAN ANTONIO, Texas, March 23.—Mrs. Agnes Katus Randle, formerly of Indianapolis, with her husband, Captain Edwin H. Randle, 20th infantry, has filed suit for $100,000 damages against Colonel Arthur L. Conger, 20th infantry, alleging that the colonel made public statements reflecting on Mrs. Randle's character and ordered the captain to divorce his wife or face a ruined military career.

The charges, alleged to have been made by the colonel, according to the petition, were founded upon his malice and ill will against Mrs. Randle and had no basis in fact.

Mrs. Randle refused to be interviewed until she could consult her attorney. Colonel Conger refused to speak directly, but Captain Anderson, regimental adjutant, speaking for the commanding officer, declared that the colonel had acted to protect members of his regiment.

Wouldn't it be nice if we were at ways as nice as we sometimes are?

INVOKES FREE SPEECH IN FILM CENSOR ROW
NEW YORK, March 23.—An urgent request to all owners of motion picture theaters in the state to begin active work for repeal of the motion picture censorship law was sent out by Peter J. Brady, president of the Allied Amusement Trades Council. "The motion picture film is a publication and subject to the law of libel," said Mr. Brady. "It publishes drama, literature, scientific, religious, political, economic and other ideas, sentiments and opinions. Any attempt to abridge or restrain such publication in any degree is a violation of our constitutional rights."

"If it becomes an indecent publication it can be suppressed by proper statute. The license of the exhibition place can be revoked, the place closed and all connected with the indecent publication prosecuted, but the publication must take place before the law is invoked."
